AS TO SALARIES OF THE JUDGES

The Subject Argued in House Yesterday.

Spainhour Bill Causes Considerable Argument in House—Finally Sidetracked For the Present on Motion of Representative Doughton—Some of More Important Business Transacted.

Raleigh, Jan. 24.—The Spainhour bill for the regulation of the salaries of Superior court judges came up in the house this morning as special order and it caused no little argument, being finally sidetracked for the present. The bill provides that judges shall receive their pay at the rate of $100 per week the monthly warrants to be on the basis of the number of days court that the clerk of the courts certify to the state auditor that the respective judges have held for the months. And that at the end of the year if there is any judge who has not drawn his present salary of $3,250 he shall receive additional compensation to bring his income for the year up to that amount. Also that judges who are more industrious than the average shall have the right to run their income for the year up to $4,000.

Wooten, of Lenoir, offered a substitute to the Spainhour bill providing that the salaries of the Supreme court judges shall be $5,000 and the salaries of the Superior court judges to $4,000. He spoke at length in advocacy of his bill insisting that the Spainhour bill is a reflection on the integrity of the judges and an assault on the dignity of the courts of the state. He claimed that there would be instances where judges would have to make long trips to hold courts and the term would not last long enough for him to be even reimbursed for the expenses of the trip.

Mr. Spainhour spoke with much zeal in advocacy of his bill. He insisted that despite of the great increase in the number of courts and judges during the past ten years the dockets are constantly getting more congested. He denied that the proposed system would in any way reflect on the courts or make inroads in the dignity of the judges. If some are doing their duty and others are not the lazy ones will be spurred on to the discharge of their duty more fully. He believed, too, that his bill would have the effect of ending the cry that is coming up from certain quarters for more judges.

Representative Turlington criticized the Spainhour bill as unjust to the judges and the Wooten substitute undesirable because it proposed large increase in salaries which he is opposed to at this time. Because some judges are not doing their duty was, he said, no excuse for reflecting on them all as the Spainhour bill would.

Representative Doughton took the position that this was so big a question that the House should not pass on it at this time. There were a number of measures involving the status of the courts pending and in contemplation and this should be left over and all adjusted together. The questions of additional districts and of two or four circuits were proposed. These matters in addition to the problems up to the finance committee to provide revenue for the salaries already provided should be adjusted together. He moved re-reference of the Spainhour bill and substitute to the courts and judicial districts committee. This was seconded by Battle of Wake. This was carried over the protest of Turlington and others who insisted that if the bill comes back there will be the additional loss of time and the house was as ready now as it would ever be to act.

The House.

The House was convened at 11 o'clock by Speaker Dowd. Rev. A. J. Moncrief, of Tabernacle Baptist church, offered the prayer.

Reports of Committees.

During the reports of committees there came from the committee on education a favorable report on the bill of Marshall, of Surry, for free school books with the change that instead of applying to the entire state that it apply only to Surry county and that instead of the money coming out of the school funds that it be charged to the general fund of the county.

New Bills Introduced.

Joint resolution to pay members of the assembly who visited the school for deaf and dumb at Morganton.

Woodson, regarding closing fruit and cigar stores on Sunday.

Dennie: Amend the law as to the salary of the assistant commissioner of labor and printing.

Battle: Compromise and settle the debt of the University of North Carolina to the late H. H. Smith.

Hagaman: Establish the office of treasurer of Watauga county.

The Senate.

President Newland rapped the senate to order at 11 o'clock and invited Rev. A. D. Wilcox, of Central Methodist church, to offer prayer.

Cobb, of Robeson: From veterans of Camp Ryan for an increase in pensions and endorsing the bill appropriating $5,000 for a woman's annex at the Soldiers' Home and $5,000 for maintenance.

Coxe, of Jackson: Joint resolution inviting Hon. H. S. Graves, forester of the U. S. Forestry Service, to address the general assembly Wednesday night, February 1. (Adopted and sent to the house.)

New Bill.

Kitchen, of Halifax: Provide for the payment of burial expenses of Confederate veterans.

The senate at the request of Senator Hobgood, of Guilford, passed a bill curing a defect in the bill which was ratified January 17th creating a commission form of government for the city of Greensboro. It was sent to the house without engrossment.

Income Tax a Special Order.

The senate at 12 o'clock resumed debate on the special order deferred from last Thursday—the resolution to ratify the 16th amendment to the United States constitution by empowering Congress to levy and collect a federal income tax. Senator Barnes, of Hertford, who introduced the resolution, made an extended argument for it last Thursday, followed by Senator Graham, of Orange, who concluded with a brief speech today. Others who spoke for the adoption of the resolution were Senators Martin, of Buncombe, Bassett, of Edgecombe, and Haymore, of Surry, the last named being a Republican. All of the speeches were able, forceful and convincing and the speakers all argued that this was one of the fairest and most equitable measures up for consideration in a long time. The history of income tax legislation was given with numerous citations and the argument in favor of the resolution claimed the closest attention. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 42 to 1. Senator Boyden casting the negative vote. It was sent to the house by special messenger.

IN FEDERAL COURT.

Case of Chesterfield Manufacturing Company Vs. Leota Cotton Mills Taken Up.

In United States court yesterday the case of Chesterfield Manufacturing Company vs. the Leota Cotton Mills was taken up. The suit is to recover $5,000 damages because of an alleged breach of contract. There is a vast amount of evidence, both oral and written and the case will last for several days. Messrs. J. N. Wilson, David Stern and Rouse & Land, of Kinston, represent the plaintiff, while E. S. Parker, of Graham, and ex-Judge Bynum are appearing for the defense. The case is being hotly contested.

The case was tried last June, but the jury after a long deliberation failed to agree and a mistrial was ordered.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday morning in bankruptcy court by B. F. and H. Clay Massey, of Charlotte, the firm being adjudged bankrupt and the matter referred to W. S. O'B. Robinson, referee. The assets are about $2,200 and the liabilities about $4,400.

Rev. Mack Carried Through.

Rev. Mack, the negro woman missionary who was arrested in Virginia on the charge of kidnapping the child of Adam Avery, of Raleigh, yesterday through trial. Avery and his lately recovered child were on the same train and the negro appeared to be overjoyed at getting his child back again. The woman arrested is not the same Rev. Mack that was arrested here on the same charge, though there is a slight resemblance between the two.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SOUTHERN LIFE & TRUST CO.

The Business During Past Year Highly Satisfactory to Stockholders.

The stockholders and directors of the Southern Life and Trust Company held their annual meeting in the company's building at 10:30 a. m. yesterday. The reports of the officers of the business of 1910 were highly satisfactory. A semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent. was declared by the Trust Department, which, added to the 6 per cent. semi-annual dividend paid in July last, makes 12 per cent. on the capital stock in dividends paid by this company for the year.

A few years ago when this company was about half as strong as it is today its life insurance men adopted the slogan, "Watch us grow into a half-million dollar company." The increase in the surplus of the company for the year 1910 was such as to run the capital and surplus combined considerably above the half-million dollar mark. Every dollar of the surplus of this company is an earned surplus and it probably has a larger capital and surplus than any other southern life insurance company. The Southern Life and Trust Company has been adding to its surplus every year without interruption and the increase in surplus as to policyholders in seven years has been from $200,000.00 to $518,677.07. The company has increased its business during its seven years at a steady, consistent pace of one million dollars net increase per annum and now has in force something over 7 millions of insurance. The company has been conservative in its methods and has considered the all-important thing to be, "Not how much business have you done," but "What have you got to show for it," and largely as a result of this enjoys the distinction of being the only life insurance company organized in the last 10 years that is in a position to place its business upon an exclusively annual dividend basis. This company is making larger dividend percentage returns to its policyholders than any other life insurance company in the country and enjoys an enviable reputation for solidity, soundness and success.

The following officers were elected: A. W. McAllister, president; R. G. Vaughn, first vice president and treasurer; A. M. Seales, second vice president and general counsel; R. J. Mebane, third vice president; David White, secretary; Dr. Edmund Harrison, medical director; D. P. Fackler, consulting actuary; W. A. Higgins, resident actuary; S. A. Holleman, auditor; J. W. Brawley, agency director; C. L. Weill, T. L. Simmons, E. N. Snow and S. R. Brown, superintendents of agencies.

AGAINST THE PETITION

Mr. Bain Advises Against Signing Up To Support Commission Form of Government.

Editor Telegram:—Some of the advocates of the bill recently passed by the General Assembly for a commission form of government for the city of Greensboro are circulating petitions for signature by the voters of the city, promising to vote for the same.

While our citizens have a perfect right to do so, we would advise them to wait until a full and fair discussion can be had of the merits of the commission form, as well as the bill passed for this city, before promising to support the measure.

If it can be shown that the Greensboro bill is not suited to our needs, that it will raise taxes, that it will put our schools in the hands of one man, instead of a school board, and that it will be more expensive, etc., we are sure the voters do not wish to be forestalled by signing the petition. If the bill is a good one it can surely stand the daylight of discussion and it should not be necessary to prop it up with a petition.

Bill Providing Them May Become Law.

Representative Marshall Introduced State Wide Bill, But Committee Limited Its Application to Surry and Reported Favorably—Good Roads Bill Will Most Likely Pass, Creating State Highway Commission.

Raleigh, Jan. 24.—Representative Marshall, of Surry county, some days ago introduced a bill to provide free text books for public school children. He is a Republican and his bill is in line with one of the planks of his party which the Democrats allege they are not espousing in good faith, but for political purposes. The House committee on education has just given him a hearing on his bill and he made an especially earnest appeal for his measure to be reported favorably, using the conditions he says exist in his own county as a special text. The committee have him a complete surprise by deciding to report his bill favorably but limiting its application to Surry county only and prescribing that the money for the school books shall not come out of the school funds of the county but out of the general county fund. Representative Marshall has not indicated just what attitude he will assume in the House, when his bill comes up as amended with favorable report from the committee. The indications are that the House will pass the bill and that its ultimate fate will rest with the senator from Surry in the upper branch of the assembly.

The Senate judiciary committee announces that it will on Monday, January 30, give a special hearing on the bill by Senator Lemmond, of Union county, to prevent monopoly in gas and electric light and power by preventing cuts in rates to drive out competition. It prohibits advances in rates when once put down in competition.

The bill by Representative Quickel, of Lenoir county, to amend Chapter 456, Public Laws of 1907 by repealing that part that makes employees of railroads guilty of a misdemeanor for violating the provisions of the act came in for lengthy discussion before judiciary committee No. 1 of the House this afternoon, especially an explanation of the bill by Mr. Quickel, and Friday afternoon of this week was set for hearing railroad officials against the measure. This was done at the request of A. B. Andrews, Jr., who said there would be a number of prominent railroad officials here on that date for other business and their convenience would be greatly conserved if the committee could arrange to hear them at that time on the Quickel bill. The bill is designed to enable employees to recover damages from railroads for injuries when working over time instead of being debarred through being guilty of misdemeanor for the over time work.

The joint committee of the senate and the house on public roads has just given a lengthy hearing on the Boyden bill for creating a state highway commission for co-operating with the counties in road building and imposing a special tax of one quarter of a mill on the dollar of taxable property for a state road fund for the work of the commission which is to be empowered to aid financially in approved road construction to the amount of one fourth of the cost of the road. The bill was unanimously approved, the only question being the advisability of the additional tax. On this account it was decided to hold the bill in committee until the finance and the appropriations committees formulate more definitely their plans for state finances. Among the speakers were Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, J. Q. Barker, of Andrews; Mr. McNeill, of Sanford. These in addition to very many of the members of the joint committee.

FOR DR. LITTLE

Resolutions Adopted by the Directors of the Southern Life and Trust Co.

The following resolutions have been adopted by the Board of Directors of the Southern Life and Trust Company:

"Resolved by the board of directors of the Southern Life & Trust Company, that in the death of Dr. Thomas R. Little, medical director of the company since the beginning of the Life Department, this company has suffered a grievous loss, that much of the remarkable success of the company, in the Life Insurance field, was due to his painstaking investigation, his clear judgment and his splendid professional skill in determining and carrying out the policy of the company, that while he was conservative and faithfully protected the interests of the company, yet he was possessed of a large fund of tact, common sense and judgment, and never needlessly declined an applicant for insurance, and to his faithful discharge of the duties of medical director is due in large measure the low death ratio of the company. That year by year his experience and skill had ripened, and gave promise to even greater usefulness to the company in the future.

"That he had endeared himself to his associates in this company by his many lovable traits of character, and had won our esteem by his high character and ability.

"Resolved further that we take this opportunity, at the first meeting since his death, of assuring his bereaved family of our heartfelt sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be published in the papers and copies sent to his family and relatives, and a copy spread on the minute book of the company."

A DESERVING CASE

Woman With Three Small Children Here In Penniless Condition.

Mrs. Tiny Fink and three small children arrived here yesterday from Durham. Mrs. Fink is without resources and came here looking for employment in a cotton mill. She couldn't get the employment. She and her children are being temporarily cared for by the Salvation Army at 709 South Elm street. Lieut. Miller, in charge of the Salvation Army here, finds Mrs. Fink and her children quite a tax on the Salvation Army, which has only a limited fund for such cases, and he calls on the public to come to the aid of the Army. He says that with ten dollars he thinks he could get employment for her in some neighboring mill town, could get her there and start her off on a program of self-support. She has nothing. Her husband left her a year ago. She lived with a brother until he died. The lieutenant is convinced that this is a very deserving case and he urges that help be extended.

FLAMES DEVOUR TWO RESIDENCES

And a Third Catches on Fire.

Firemen, Aided by Still Atmosphere, by Good Work Prevented Further Spread of Fire on Silver Avenue Last Evening—Line of Hose 1500 Feet Long Laid and Engine Used With Effect.

Fire which originated in the house occupied by Alvin Thompson on Silver avenue last night threatened to destroy half a dozen adjoining residences and but for the swift work of the firemen and favorable atmospheric conditions the entire row of residences would have been destroyed. As it was two houses were burned to the ground and a third caught on fire.

An alarm was turned in from box 56 at 7 o'clock, being quickly followed by a second alarm, which called out the entire department. The nearest hydrant was more than a quarter of a mile away and a single line of hose, 1500 feet in length was laid, the engine being coupled at the hydrant. With the exception of the West End company all the fire companies had to go over a mile after the alarm was turned in and the house which first caught was almost burned down and the second one was half gone when they arrived and made connections. Seeing that it was useless to try to save these the firemen turned the stream of water on the adjoining houses and by wetting the sides and quenching the flames nearest the houses prevented the fire from spreading. The third house had just caught when the firemen arrived, but a stream of water with 100 pounds pressure soon checked its progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were both out of the city, Mrs. Thompson having left yesterday at noon and Mr. Thompson following last night at 6 o'clock. He was at home just before he left, but it is not known whether he left a fire in the house or not. It is evident that the fire originated in the kitchen and the fire soon spread to the house occupied by Mr. Bascom Strader, who lived adjoining. None of Mr. Thompson's furniture was saved, but all of Mr. Strader's household goods were removed in safety. The house occupied by Mr. J. W. Cable, adjoining the house occupied by Mr. Thompson on the South was the third house to catch on fire. All of Mr. Cable's furniture was removed, as was the furniture of the house adjoining his. Mr. Cable's house was damaged only slightly, the side next the Thompson house being charred and a small hole burned in the roof.

The house occupied by Mr. Thompson was owned by Mrs. Roach, of Burlington, while the one occupied by Mr. Strader was owned by Mr. Ab Erwin. It was not learned whether they carried insurance. The loss of the houses will amount to about $1,000 or $1,200 for each. It is not known as to Mr. Thompson's insurance on his furniture.

Although the fire was over a mile from the station a large number of people were out and the entire neighborhood were at the scene. That the furniture in Mr. Strader's house was saved is due to the ready and willing hands of men who rushed into the blazing building, taking the things from the side the fire was on first. There is no fire hydrant on the avenue, the hydrant used being at the corner of Lee and Litchia street, three long blocks away.

CHEROKEE GIRL TO BE AN OPERA STAR

Mme. Schumann-Heink Predicts La Homa Will Be "Greatest Soprano in the World."

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 24.—In two or three years opera lovers of New York will be wild over a little Cherokee Indian girl from Oklahoma. At least that is the prophecy of Mme. Schumann-Heink, who made a trip to Muskogee, Okla., at her own expense, hiring a special train part of the way that she might sing at a benefit in the little Indian girl's home town to help pay for the musical education of her newest protegee.

"She will be the greatest soprano in the world," said the great singer of Suzanne La Homa, now known as Suzanne Cobb McDaniels, for she has been the wife of Horace McDaniels since she was in her teens and she still is young.

When a student the little black haired dark eyed Cherokee girl used to sing at school entertainments in Muskogee and the members of her tribe left their tepees and dogs and went to hear her. When she sang with Mme. Schumann-Heink, in Muskogee mingled with the well dressed audience were hundreds of old Cherokees, roughly garbed, who followed every note the Indian girl sang.

The old Cherokees willingly gave a dollar each to help pay for the girl's musical studies. Now La Homa is singing for them. In every town in the Cherokee Nation she is giving a concert singing for the people she loves and who are so proud of her. She will go to London to sing the leading roles with a continental opera company and to study for another year or two. Then if Mme. Schumann-Heink's prophecy shall prove true she will return to her native land and fame.

With dark soft hair, brown eyes and a skin of creamy whiteness La Homa, dressed in gaudy blanket and Indian headgear, presents a picture that will be a great asset in her future career.

Washington Post.

With the lament over the sudden death of Paul Morton, once a member of President Roosevelt's Cabinet, there was early discussion of his successor as president of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, and the suggestions were soonest made by men high up in political circles. The first one mentioned in groups at the Capitol and in hotel lobbies was George B. Cortelyou, who was in the Cabinet with Paul Morton and who was chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1904.

While the acquaintance and friendship of Cortelyou with public men in and out of Washington may account for the quick mention of his name for such an important and high-salaried place, it is remarked, too, that his administration of Consolidated Gas Company affairs in New York since leaving the Treasury has wonderfully increased the admiration of both politicians and financiers. There has been, of course, a hope among some of the faithful that Cortelyou, a young man, might return to politics next year, but if he is chosen head of the Equitable, with a salary of something like $100,000 a year, he may not be again tempted into political paths.

Each other citizen talked of as the possible successor of Paul Morton in the Equitable has been identified with Republican party affairs. George W. Perkins, who was active in the Republican national campaigns during the time of Hanna and Cortelyou, was suggested in Washington groups last night, and then came the name of former Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana. All three men are noted for business as well as political wisdom, and while the majority of expressions favored the selection of Cortelyou there was much advanced in favor of Fairbanks and Perkins.

WOMEN IN PORTUGAL

Dig In the Fields and Do Laboring Work in the Cities.

A good part of the farm work is performed by the women, who see no reason why they should regard digging, hoeing and plowing as the work of men alone. The man who owns a few acres of land will often leave its cultivation to his wife and daughters, while he labors as carpenter, stone-mason or cooper, for caskmaking is one of their important industries. He also likes to get a job as a waiter in one of the numerous hotels at seaside resorts, for the country has thousands of continental and English visitors.

Women share in the heavy work of the cities as well. There are female porters, laborers on the docks, market tenders and even women coal heavers, fishermen, or, rather, fisherwomen, and sailors. They are as strong and hardy as their husbands and brothers and seem to stand long hours and hard labor as well.

Of course it rather takes away the glamour of romance when one sees a young woman with finely chiseled features and beautiful black eyes digging with spade and mattock or heaving a basket of coal into a ship's hold with as much ease as the American girl plays tennis and golf. Women seem happy under what we would consider hard conditions, so the reformer would probably have his labor for his pains if he suggested a change in this department of Portuguese national existence.—Christian Herald.

KILL THEM YOUNG.

Do Not Tolerate Weeds in the Garden of the Soul.

An old man was once walking with a little boy. They came across four shrubs. The old man said to the youthful companion:

"Pull up the last one."

He obeyed with ease.

"Now the next."

He obeyed, but it did not come so easily.

"And the third."

It took all his strength to move its roots.

"Now the fourth."

In vain the lad put forth all his strength. He only made the leaves tremble. He could not move the roots. They had gone strongly into the earth, and no effort could dislodge them.

Then the wise old man said to the ardent youth:

"This, my son, is just what happens with our passions. When they are young and weak one may by a little watchfulness over self and the help of a little self denial easily tear them up, but if we let them cast their roots deep into our souls there is no human power can uproot them. The almighty hand of the Creator alone can pluck them out. For this reason, my child, watch well over the first movement of your soul and study by acts of virtue to keep your passions well in check."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Something in the Eye.

Small substances, like cinders, dust or small chips of stone or metal, can often be removed from the eye by very simple means. Sometimes catching the upper lid by the lashes and pulling it away from the eyeball and down over the lower lid, then letting it go, so that as it recedes its under surface is swept by the edge of the lower lid, will clear it out. If this does not prove successful a loop made of a horsehair or of a long human hair can be passed under the lid and swept from the outer side toward the nose and drawn down. Better than this, however, is the washing of the eye or flushing with the eye dropper. Every person should carry one in his traveling bag, for they are invaluable. Catch hold of the lower and upper lid, draw them away from the eye and then fill the dropper, which is like a small syringe, with water and flush the eye two or three times. This will always remove the cinder at once.—Family Doctor.

Not a Born Forger.

The indorsement of checks is a very simple thing; but, as the following story will show, it, too, has its difficulties:

A woman went into a bank where she had several times presented checks drawn to Mrs. Lucy B. Smith. This time the check was made to the order of Mrs. M. J. Smith. M. J. were her husband's initials. She explained this to the paying teller and asked what she should do.

"Oh, that is all right," he said. "Just indorse it as it is written there."

She took the check and after much hesitation said, "I don't think I can make an M like that."

Prepared For Emergency.

"What makes you keep giving me fish for dinner day after day?" he inquired. "Are you particularly fond of it?"

"No," she replied. "I was wholly unselfish. I read a lovely recipe about how to remove a fishbone when it sticks in your throat, and I wanted to try it."—Washington Star.

Not That Kind of Woman.

"Do you believe in making a genuflection before you enter your pew?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle.

"Mercy, no!" replied her hostess as she flicked a bit of dust from the $2,000 grand piano. "If I have genuflections to make about people I always do it outside of church."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Spartanburg has been asked to respond to the interurban proposition with $250,000, and replies that it will be a pleasure to do so. Greensboro has not yet learned of her apportionment, but is waiting with bated breath.

Virginia is trying to compel West Virginia to assist in the payment of an old family debt of $33,000,000. It isn't easy to force a child to pay the debts of a parent made when things at home were so warm he could not remain in peace, even though the contract was for necessities.

The prohibitionists of Tennessee should feel particularly proud of their new senator, Luke Lea, and encouraged over the result of their noble and untiring efforts to have him elected. Mr. Lea's election breaks a dead-lock which has existed for three weeks in the Tennessee General Assembly.

On Saturday some Chinese began a riot in Hankow, China, following a report that a coolie had been killed by some British police. American Consul Albert Brent Moser has wired Washington asking that a gunboat be sent to protect the American interests at Hankow. When the Chinese mob learns of any mistreatment of a Chinaman by men of Anglo-Saxon blood, the savage instincts begin their work, and the fight is not against the Englishman or the American, but the "foreign devil." The better element of the Chinese is in no sense bitter toward Americans, but when the ignorant and superstitious masses become riled, they suddenly become seized with their old-time hatred of the whole gentile tribe; and none know better than the white man how important it is to make a show of arms at the earliest sign of revolt.

THE COUNTY SEAT.

At a meeting of representative citizens of Cumberland county, held on Monday, a resolution was drafted in which the chairman was empowered to select a committee of forty to go to Raleigh and oppose the establishment of the proposed new county of Hoke. Cumberland is one of the largest counties in the State; but if the new county advocates are dissatisfied because of an inaccessible county-seat, with what fairness to Cumberland could the legislature enact their wishes into law, when by taking away a part of southern Cumberland, it would cause the citizens at the extreme north of Cumberland to have to go twice as far to reach their county-seat as many of those now living in the territory of the proposed new county? Fayetteville should win out easily in its fight against dismemberment.

A VALUABLE REPORT.

The 24th annual report of the Department of Labor and Printing of the State of North Carolina is from the press. It contains full, complete, and valuable information and statistics relative to labor, its cost and its increase during the year; cost of raising different farm products; a chapter on trades, showing wages, hours and general conditions of employment; a chapter on miscellaneous factories, giving the capital stock, the agents, the number employees, and the value of the plants; a chapter on cotton, woolen and silk mills, with full data similar to that in the preceding chapter; chapter VII treats of furniture factories; and chapter VIII of newspapers, showing the increase of publications, circulation, and the totals of each. Commissioner Shipman reports that he believes the majority of factories are honestly trying to comply with the law, but recommends the passage of a factory inspection law for the protection of honest manufacturers as well as employees. He endorses a sixty-hour week for employees in factories, and wants employers to provide fire escapes and other appliances necessary for safety. The book is one to be valued not alone for the information it gives, but as a book of reference for those who are interested in the welfare of the State and for those whose vocations and professions call for specific information from time to time on the various subjects treated.

The Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company is a big firm in Atlanta. It is a strong believer in the commission form of government. In yesterday's Atlanta Journal it carried a page advertisement advocating the commission form. Among other things that it says is this, and it is striking and impressive to say the least:

We run a store. Its interests are divided into departments. We elect one man to manage each department. We elect him—not because he is or is not a Christian or a Jew, a northsider, or a southsider—but because we are confident he possesses the qualifications necessary to make a success of that particular department. He appoints his own helpers, selects the merchandise, fixes prices. If he proves his ability, observes the policy of the store government, which is that of simple honesty, and makes his department show a profit at the end of each fiscal year, his position is secure.

We don't choke his ambition nor strangle his efforts with red tape. However, we do enforce the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

The initiative gives us the power to demand any improvement in his department that we may want.

The referendum gives us the power to accept or reject any plan that he may suggest.

The recall gives us the power to discharge him for misconduct, negligence or inefficiency.

That system has been our salvation. When we reorganized on that basis less than fifteen years ago, the business was practically dead. We were heading straight for the shoals of bankruptcy or liquidation. Since then our sales have increased nearly six hundred per cent—from $225,000 a year to nearly $1,350,000.

It is the system that has been the deliverance of other cities.

It is the system that will redeem Atlanta from every past mistake.

THE KICKER.

An Entirely Different Sort of Man From the Growler.

There is a world of difference between the man who kicks and the man who growls.

The man who kicks—who truly, earnestly and honestly kicks—is a good kind of man to have about. He kicks because things are not as they should be, and he proposes to correct them. The man who growls is merely a negative quality. He may know that things are not going right, but he hasn't any idea of trying to do anything about it. He just sits round and complains.

You remember Mark Twain's story about the kicker and how successful he was in securing everything that belonged to him. He was a producer in the best sense of the word, just as every man who kicks in the right way is certain to be. You probably know just such men—men who are chronic kickers. Let anything go wrong and they go "up in the air" in a minute, but you can depend upon it that that particular thing will never go wrong again if they can prevent it.

A kicker may not be the most agreeable person to have around, yet he is a healthful factor in almost any establishment. He has his faults, but it is possible to overlook them for the sake of the productive value that he represents.

As to the growler—there seems to be no place for him in the work of the world. He may complain loudly and whine and talk about other people, but he remedies no faults, he repairs no leaks—he just makes trouble. That is the difference between the kicker and the growler.—Business.

To the coward discretion is the better part of valor.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Cautious Scot.

Stonehaven lies to the south of Aberdeen. The London train had drawn up at Stonehaven on account of a slight mishap a mile or two ahead, and Andra, the old porter, had got into conversation with a Salvation Army officer, who had popped his head out of the compartment to ask the reason for the delay. "Aye, aye," mused Andra after giving the desired information. "ye'll be for Alberdeen, I'm thinkin'?" "Yes, my man," was the reply; "I'm bound for Aberdeen, a very wicked place, I'm told." "What might ye be goin' to dae there, sir, if it's as bad as a' that?" asked Andra, rather amused at the visitor's words. "Ah," was the pious answer, "I'm going to drive the devil out of Aberdeen." Like lightning came from the old porter the pawky reply, "See an' drive him north, chiel; haul him well to the north!"

He Got His Answer.

"They who ask unpleasant questions," said a senator, "mustn't be surprised if they get unpleasant answers. Yes, the interrogatory politician too often finds himself in the boots of Gobsa Golde."

"The aged Gobsa Golde was quarreling furiously with his young and beautiful wife."

"Didn't you marry me for my money?" he yelled.

"Mrs. Gobsa Golde tossed her head."

"Yes, of course I did," she said, "and if you weren't so stingy with it we'd never have a cross word."—Washington Post.

Steel and Iron.

Reamur discovered the direct process of making steel in 1722, or thereabouts, by immersing malleable iron in a bath of cast iron. A steel manufactory is said to have been set up by Benjamin Huntsman near Sheffield in 1740. It was about 1800, however, before steel fairly became the fashion. The greatest boost to the trade came from Bessemer in 1850.

Maids of Moods.

"We wouldn't think of expecting it. Muriel is temperamental, and Zaza is intense."—Pittsburg Post.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Man Telephones to Greensboro Druggist for Medicine to Go to Memphis.

After the trains for the South had left Washington City last Sunday, a prominent citizen of the Nation's capital received word that his brother was very ill with pneumonia in Memphis, Tenn. The Washington City man got long distance and telephoned to Conyer's drug store in this city and had a half dozen bottles of Gowans Preparation put on the train for Memphis.

This item is not printed as news but it presented by the Gowan Medical Co., to show what high esteem their Preparation is held by people who know its virtues. Mr. Z. V. Conyers, the well known Greensboro druggist, who filled the order, vouches for the authenticity of this statement. This happened last Sunday, January 22. Gowans advertises as the King of Externals, and the druggist guarantees the preparation and refunds your money if Gowans does not do all that it is claimed it will do in subduing all kinds of inflammation. 1ti

EARLY CLOSING.

(Communicated.)

In the resolutions passed some time since by the Ministerial Association regarding the evangelistic campaign to be conducted on very sane and practical lines during the next three months, is a provision for the circulating of a petition among the merchants of the city requesting them to close their stores on Saturday nights not later than nine o'clock during this period. This request is made in order that clerks and all others who serve the public in like capacity may have a good night's rest and be refreshed for the Sabbath's helpful worship which makes life worth while and removes the danger of rushing the week's work upon the Sabbath in such a way that the day is desecrated even before it arrives.

This is probably one of the best moves ever made by the Greensboro ministers and people. It is worth while aside from the special benefits to be derived during this campaign, for this is, it is hoped, the entering wedge to a much needed reform in this matter of working late at night which robs the people of legitimate and much needed rest that will prepare them for more efficient service performed in fewer hours, and it will give them a chance for the rounding out of the larger life which makes the best all round citizenship and gives the higher order of civilization. There is no good reason why any one should wait later than eight o'clock on Saturday night, or any other night, for that matter, to do their shopping.

It is claimed by some of the merchants and clerks that, as a rule, it is not those who work during the day who trade late at night, but those who do very little during the day except eat, sleep and gossip and then stalk and prow around late at night doing lots of looking and talking requiring lots of showing of goods but few purchases. Why should these people so demoralize the schedule of life as to make themselves weaker and no wiser and at the same time work a useless hardship upon faithful public servants who, of all people, deserve grateful consideration. What a blessing it would be to us if we could get home and retire early on Saturday night: it would make many of us anew physically, mentally, morally and spiritually. Whatever encourages our people to retire and arise early will be due much credit for a greatly improved order of civilization. Such a movement will help the home life of town and country alike and do much to mend the demoralized habits and restore that regular and well ordered schedule of living which every community is in need of. The building up of strong homes and families will contribute more than anything else to the educational, business, political and religious interests of the city and do untold good in every channel. Early closing would enable employees to hold all necessary meetings of whatever nature earlier and thus permit of an earlier retirement.

Teachers tell us that many children from homes where late retiring and late rising is practised nervously and hurriedly eat their breakfast and rush to school to suffer from nervousness and weakness all day, and pay the penalty therefor in their later years. Physicians too concur in the statement that much of the nervousness and physical disorders in the child of today is traceable to this irregular order of life.

We are indeed glad that our ministers and church people are taking this matter up, but this is not enough, so let all our people lend their support to this worthy undertaking, for it means more than we can now predict. For the old adage is still true, "Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise."

It is a well known fact that most people who can stand the strain and stress of this irregular and excessive living are great length of time are, in the main, people who have been made strong, robust and vigorous by well ordered conditions back in the old home on the farm. We know also that the cities would soon be depopulated and depleted of their moral, business and religious strength but for the fact that there is a constant influx from the country and country villages of brain, brawn and rich red blood.

Let us be wise then not only in conserving these fine forces that recruit and re-enforce us from the country but also in the development of the same type of strength among ourselves which can be done by a better regulation of our order of living.

MASS MEETING

Mr. Brandt Asks Mr. Bain To Unite In Calling One For the Discussion of the Commission Form of Government.

Mr. Editor:

It is being stated by some of our citizens, who are opposed to the proposed new charter for a commission form of government, that it raises the present tax rate. This statement is absolutely incorrect and there is no foundation for such a report. The charter as passed by the legislature expressly provides for and limits the tax rate to $1.30, the same as at present. As to Mr. Bain's article asking for a public discussion of the merits and demerits of the proposed charter for Greensboro, I take it that he represents and is speaking for those opposing this charter. I am sure that none of us want anything except what is for the best interests of the city and its citizens. To this end I believe a joint discussion will be of great benefit to the public and afford enlightenment, therefore I, representing the charter committee, ask Mr. Bain or those whom he represents to join us in calling a meeting at the court house on Monday evening next when the matter can be thoroughly discussed.

No attempt has been made by the committee to force anything on the citizens, everything pertaining to the charter having been done openly and above board and every citizen invited to attend and take part in the public meetings which were held at the court house, when the charter was being prepared.

Respectfully,

L. J. BRANDT.

Preliminaries to the Simultaneous Revival.

"Family Altar Day" will be observed at the churches next Sunday morning. Each pastor will deliver a special sermon for the occasion. Parents are urged to be present. Rev. L. E. Smith, pastor of the Christian church, will conduct the devotional exercises, at the ministers' meeting next Monday morning, subject, "Answers to Prayer."

HOWARD GARDNER SUCCESSFUL.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence Howard Gardner succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. in making a special half price introductory offer on their regular fifty cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

This medicine is a recent discovery for the cure of all diseases of the stomach and bowels. It not only gives quick relief, but it makes permanent cures. Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles, that Howard Gardner is willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation, and all forms of liver and stomach trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

So great is the demand for this specific that Howard Gardner has been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon him at once, or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half-price offer with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Foreman Falls Into Seething Vat, But Retains Consciousness Until He Explains Accident.

New York Herald.

While trying to loosen a chain suspended from the rafters of the alkali room at the Proctor & Gamble soap factory, at Mariner's Harbor, Staten Island, Saturday night, John Lepton, foreman of the alkali department, fell headlong into a vat of boiling lye.

Although fatally burned and suffering excruciating pain, he retained consciousness until his death, at half-past twelve o'clock yesterday afternoon.

In a statement to Coroner Jackson in the Smith Infirmary Mr. Lepton told how the accident occurred. He said that a chain, on which hung a bucket used to convey lye from the floor to the top of the tank, became entangled, and that he climbed a ladder to the top of the tank and walked across a narrow bridge that stretched across the top of the vat. As he reached out to catch the chain it slipped and he lost his balance and fell into the vat below. David Wilkowsky, another employee saw him fall and pulled him out of the tank.

Mr. Lepton was forty-four years old and married. He lived in Richmond avenue, Bull's Head, Staten Island.

Chicago Tribune.

"Paw, is there any difference between timber and lumber?"

"There is no necessary difference in kind, my son; they differ merely in degree or stage of development. For example, a man may be spoken of as good timber for some high office and yet represent nothing but lumber when he gets there."

Doctor—My dear madam, you've been overtaxing your strength. Try wearing less jewelry.

A RELIABLE COUGH MEDICINE

Is a valuable friend. Foley's Honey and Tar fulfils this condition exactly. Mrs. Charles Kline, N. 8th St., Easton, Pa., states: "Several members of my family have been cured of bad coughs and colds by the use of Foley's Honey and Tar and I am never without a bottle in the house. It soothes and relieves the irritation in the throat and loosens up the cold. I have always found it a reliable cough cure." Howard Gardner.

Indianapolis News.
Another objection to increasing the size of the House of Representatives is that we are not able to get enough good material for one of the present size.

Saves Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery," writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8. "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhage, la-grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough, all bronchial troubles, it's supreme. Trial bottle free. 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed by Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co.

If we could come back after death some men would be mightily surprised to find how easily the world could get along without them.

Foley's Kidney Remedy—An Appreciation
L. McConnell, Catherine St., Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I wish to express my appreciation of the great good I derived from Foley's Kidney Remedy, which I used for a bad case of kidney trouble. Five bottles did the work most effectively and proved to me beyond doubt it is the most reliable kidney medicine I have ever taken." Howard Gardner.

WIFE'S CABLEGRAMS

HALT A ROMANCE.

Her Messages from England Cause Exclusion of Husband and Woman Companion.

New York World.

A vigilant wife, after serving divorce papers on her husband as he departed from Liverpool on board the Campania, of the Cunard line, sent several cable messages to the Immigration Bureau at Ellis Island to give warning of his arrival and charging that he was accompanied by another woman. Yesterday morning when the Campania arrived, an inspector detained the man and a woman. They were taken to Ellis Island, and after a hearing before a special board of inquiry were ordered excluded. They will depart on board the Campania when she leaves this port.

The couple made the voyage as second cabin passengers, and were on the passenger list as Thomas H. Musgrove and wife. The man, who is a traveling phrenologist, said he became acquainted with the woman, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter, in the Lancashire town of Wigan, where her husband is a police sergeant.

The woman wept bitterly when told she would have to return to England.

Literary Accuracy.

"You write of your hero as stealing home in darkness," said the editor.

BEAUTIFUL WORDS IN ENGLISH

Lawyer Wins Novel Y. M. C. A. Contest.

New York American.

A contest to decide the 25 most beautiful words in the English language, conducted by the West Fifty-seventh street branch of the Young Men's Christian Association last night, was won by John Shea, a lawyer, of 416 Broadway. The prize was a flexible leather Standard Students' Dictionary. Twenty-one of the 25 words submitted by Mr. Shea were accepted.

The words accepted were melody, splendor, adoration, eloquence, virtue, innocence, modesty, faith, joy, honor, radiance, nobility, sympathy, heaven, love, divine, hope, harmony, happiness, purity and liberty.

Three words rejected were grace, justice and truth. The two former were stricken out, it was explained, because of the harshness of the g in grace and the j in justice. The word truth was eliminated because of its metallic sound.

ROUNDS' COMPANY PLEASSED.

Lycium Attraction Greeted by Large House Last Evening At West Market Annex.

In West Market annex last evening Rounds Ladies' Orchestra Company appeared before a large and appreciative audience. The program was varied and there was something that appealed to people of every taste. The ladies in the company acquitted themselves in a highly creditable manner, showing their skill in handling the various instruments. Mr. Rounds is a splendid entertainer, but not a singer of talent. He appeared to realize this fact and in his inimitable manner in producing laughter brought forth round after round of applause every time he appeared before the audience.

The bell and drum solo by Flora Sprague Rounds perhaps called for more skill than any number of the performance, but the performer showed herself equal to the task and was greeted by such hearty applause that she was compelled to respond. Miss Mabel Burdard in a pianologue captivated her audience and was twice compelled to respond with encores. Taken as a whole the entertainment was one of the best of the course given so far, and Greensboro people are awaiting with interest the remaining entertainment of the course.

DIES IN FAR OFF STATE.

Mr. N. A. Ballinger Falls a Victim to Smallpox While on a Business Trip To Texas.

News has reached here of the death in Texas of Mr. N. A. Ballinger, a well known citizen.

Mr. Ballinger went to Texas on a business trip and while there contracted a case of smallpox from which he died. The body has been temporarily interred in Texas.

Mr. Ballinger leaves a large family and his death is peculiarly sad. His place is about a mile and a half west of town in the Guilford College road.

Three Stars of Democracy.

Woodrow Wilson is the product of one brilliant and beautiful campaign. He is the new eloquent and plausible voice of Democracy. His campaign was almost without parallel in clarity, frankness and convincing force. But it is urged against Wilson that he is the "scholar in politics"—that he is a clean and brilliant theorist without the visible fruits of the tried and triumphant executive.

Champ Clark, as standard in leadership as Harmon, and with more actual experience in government than either of his great opponents, is the old light grown new and luminous on the horizon. He awoke in a night to find himself freshly famous and full-fledged as a candidate. His unanimous nomination on the first ballot to the Speakership by his party recalls the fact that the party caucus balloted for a week before they could harmonize on Charles F. Crisp, the last Democratic Speaker, and this united Congressional following is a vast advantage, emphasizing the long, able and faithful service of the Missourian to the fortunes of his party in defeat.

If we could come back after death some men would be mightily surprised to find how easily the world could get along without them.
